GENESIS IN POETRY

BY JEFFREY M. COHEN

I have enjoyed reading it. In fact I was greatly tempted to sing parts of it!

Ann Sansom, proprietor of The Poetry Business, and editor & director of The North Magazine

I hardly think I need to tell you how greatly we all enjoyed your outstanding readings last night... It was a true tour de force and made such a powerful impact.

Judy Frankel, Educationalist and former teacher of English at South Hampstead High School

Among the audience acclamations I heard were, 'brilliant' 'highly original', 'inspiring', 'intriguing,' and 'provocative.'

Naomi West, Former teacher and organiser of poetry reading, Netanya, Israel

Your poetry is by any standards, masterly and deserving of a wider but not necessarily Jewish audience... educational, intellectually stimulating and entertaining - no mean feat!

Raymond Cannon, Former Chair of Governors, JFS, London
